Reading 1 – Isaiah 2: 1-5

An aerial photograph of a valley with a river winding through it. The landscape is hilly and green, with some buildings visible in the distance. The text is overlaid on the center of the image.

Here is the message which God gave to Isaiah son of Amoz about Judah and Jerusalem:

An aerial photograph of a mountain range. The terrain is rugged and rocky, with some green vegetation on the lower slopes. A prominent, sharp mountain peak is visible in the upper right quadrant of the image. The sky is bright and slightly hazy.

In days to come the mountain where the Temple stands will be the highest one of all, towering above all the hills. Many nations will come streaming to it, and their people will say,

An aerial photograph of Jerusalem, showing the Temple Mount and the Dome of the Rock in the center. The city's streets and buildings are visible, with the Temple Mount's distinctive architecture standing out. The text is overlaid on the image in a bold, orange font.

"Let us go up the hill of the Lord, to the Temple of Israel's God. He will teach us what he wants us to do; we will walk in the paths he has chosen. For the Lord's teaching comes from Jerusalem; from Zion he speaks to his people."

He will settle disputes among great nations. They will hammer their swords into ploughs and their spears into pruning knives. Nations will never again go to war, never prepare for battle again.

A black and white photograph of a forest path. The path is paved and leads into a wooded area with many trees. In the distance, a person is walking away from the camera. The scene is lit from the right, creating a bright glow and long shadows. Overlaid on the image is red text.

Now, descendants of Jacob,
let us walk in the light,
which the Lord gives us!
