Monetary Donations—Disasters Emergency Committee

At least 2 million people have fled their homes to escape the conflict in Ukraine. Heavy fighting, shelling and air strikes across the country have had devastating consequences for ordinary people. Homes have been destroyed. Families have been separated.

Lives have been lost. At Ukraine's borders with Poland, Romania, Hungary, Slovakia and Moldova, huge numbers of people are arriving with only what they can carry.

DEC charities and their local partners are in Ukraine and in neighbouring countries providing food, water, shelter and medical assistance. Please donate at:

From the Editor

I have been sufficiently busy these past few weeks almost to wish myself back into isolation in order to be able to finish editing Chet Contact in time to get to the printers! It's always good to have a lot to do but not when lots of things have a deadline.

You will see that I have chosen to put Ukraine on page two instead of advertising a church activity. It just seemed important. I hope that there will be some resolution by the time you are reading this, but I am not overly hopeful. Perhaps you might do one or more of the things that are featured on page two in support of Ukraine.

It will be Easter this month. If I was up in the Lake District, where I visit my mother, I would be looking forward to seeing all the little lambs with their vertical take-off as they play in the fields. And of course, all those daffodils celebrated by Wordsworth.

But I will be in Chedgrave where it will be good to be able to celebrate Easter with no constraints— singing all those great Easter hymns, loads of Alleluias (saved up during Lent!), and to share bread and wine once again in our communion. That might seem strange to those of you that are not churchgoers, but we have not been able to share wine in church since lockdown.

Whatever you are doing this month, I wish you a joyful Eastertide.

Alison

The Cross on the Cover

On the front cover of this Chet Contact is a cross. It's the logo of the Chet Valley Churches, and if you look carefully you can identify the churches in Loddon, Chedgrave, Sisland, Hardley, Langley, Hales and Heckingham. But what made us choose it?

This month it will be Easter, with chocolate eggs and spring lambs. It's the most important event in the church's year, and the reason why we chose a cross for our logo. It is crucial to the Christian faith—the word 'crucial' comes from the Latin word 'cruX' meaning a cross.

The events of the first Easter went like this:

Jesus was unpopular with religious and secular leaders since he taught with authority because he was God's son. He didn't impose rules, but focussed on God's love.

Jesus knew that the leaders wanted to kill him, and on the day we call Maundy Thursday he ate a last meal with his friends, preparing them for what was to happen.

Jesus was arrested, and although he was innocent, he was condemned to death by crucifixion, the cruellest of ways to die. We call the day Good Friday, because when Jesus died good overcame evil.

On the day we call Easter Sunday the tomb where Jesus's body had been laid was empty, because he had come back to life. He taught that the events of Easter meant it was now possible for people (including us) to know God and to be forgiven for all our wrong thoughts and actions. That's amazing!

Because of Easter we can have a real faith in God who cares about us no matter what happens to us. The cross isn't a prop to stop us falling over. Rather, it is the way through which we can know God as a friend and guide. It also enables us to be the best possible version of the person we were born to be. That's why we use it as a logo, and why Easter is the most wonderful celebration of the church's year. If you are able, do come and celebrate Easter in church or join us online.

Easter service times are on page 28 and our YouTube channel is: www.youtube.com/c/ChetValleyChurches/featured.

Across the Chet Valley Churches

Worship in the Chet Valley

You are welcome to join us at any of our services

Holy Communion is celebrated every Sunday at one or other of the Chet Valley Churches, either Book of Common Prayer or Common Worship, with an informal Holy Communion service once a month in Chedgrave.

Services of Morning Worship are held in Loddon and Hardley.

Xpressions Café is on the first Sunday every month at All Saints, Chedgrave. This is a relaxed and contemporary way of 'doing church'. Open between 10:00am and 12 noon, you can come and go as you please for coffee, cake, discussion, crafts, games, stories, reflection and much more.

All Together Worship is on the third Sunday every month at All Saints, Chedgrave, starting at 11:00am (January, March, June and September are followed by shared lunch).

All Together Worship is designed to be as inclusive as possible: a mixture of formality and informality; traditional and modern; activity and stillness. In short, we will attempt to provide a service which will have points of connection for both children and adults—indeed people of all ages and all backgrounds.

Last Sunday Praise is held on the last Sunday of the month at St John's: a chance to sing old and new Christian songs and worship together.

Xtra! is an exciting, informal service every Thursday after school in St John's Church. Refreshments from 3:15pm, service starts at about 3:45pm. Open to all; particularly suited to children and young people.

In Loddon and Chedgrave there is an opportunity to enjoy a chat over refreshments after the service, Covid restriction permitting.

There are toilets and baby-changing facilities at All Saints, Chedgrave and St John's, Loddon.

Families are welcome at all of our services but are particularly catered for on the 1st and 3rd Sunday of the month in Chedgrave.

Home Communion: If you would like home communion, because you are unable for any reason to get to a Sunday service, please contact the clergy or the Church Office and we will arrange for someone to bring communion to you.

Times and details of the services can be found in the centre pages of the magazine.

Baptisms and Thanksgivings are both held within Sunday morning worship in our churches.

News From Your Local Councillors

Kay Mason-Billig & Jeremy Rowe

Loddon revamp: I have been having discussions with the planners who did the revamp of Harleston last year. I am hoping that they may come up with some exciting ideas for the middle of Loddon to make it more pedestrian-friendly and to enhance the views of the Church and the lovely buildings we have around Church Plain. I will be bringing all this to the Parish Council in due course, watch this space.

Staithe Footbridge: I know that the sad state of the footbridge over the Chet at the Loddon Staithe has been a subject of discussion for many years. I am hoping to bring some good news to you very shortly, as I believe I have finally secured the funds to repair the bridge. This is likely to be done as a Queen's Platinum Jubilee legacy project.

Roundabout on the A146: We are nearing the end of the project and should see this fully opened this month. There is some white lining still to be done, which will require another brief closure, but be assured, we will have our roundabout and an end to the frustrating restrictions very soon now.

If you have any issues or I can help in any way, you can contact me at kay.masonbillig.cllr@norfolk.gov.uk

Councillor Kay Mason-Billig

In conjunction with Loddon and Chedgrave Parish Councils, I'm working on an Emergency Plan for our neighbourhoods, to ensure that help is available in an emergency, for example serious snow or flooding. We'll let you have more details as this begins to take shape.

Over Easter we'll again be distributing flowers and Easter eggs to our over-60s friends and neighbours; please let me have any names of anyone you would like to nominate.

Please get in touch if our ChetChat group can help you if you are aged over 60; times are tough, and I fear they will become more difficult for too many people. It's never been more important for us to look out for each other, as well as restoring some much-needed faith in the good that politics and politicians can do.

If you, or someone over 60 that you know, would like some help and maybe just some friendship, please phone ChetChat on 07876 050110.

Please ring me anytime on 07733 323581 if I can help you; many people do.

Thank you.

Councillor Jeremy Rowe

Notes from Sisland

Easter is quite late this year, though not as late as it can be which would be the 25th April. As the equinox is fixed the earliest it can be is 22nd March and that will not happen again until 2285! It is at this time of the year that the annual meeting of parishioners (also referred to as the annual Vestry meeting) is held to elect churchwardens and deputies (if any) for the forthcoming year. The meeting must take place by the 31st May but in Sisland it is held before the Annual Parochial Church Meeting (APCM). Both meetings take place on Tuesday 5th April from 7:00pm at St Mary, Sisland. Members of the church who are on the electoral roll and people resident in the parish whose names are entered on a register of local government electors can attend the Vestry meeting. The electoral roll is revised annually; have you consider joining one, although you can only be on one church roll. If you wish to join the Sisland Church Electoral Roll, then please contact me at the address below.

At the end of the Easter weekend, we are planning is a Second-hand Book Sale, which will be held on the Bank Holiday Monday, Monday 18th April. We will have a range of fiction and non-fiction, reference through to children's books available, in the church. We would welcome anyone who would like a browse and to pop in. The church will be open all day so please make a note of the date in your diary. We will be raising funds for work which we need to do on the church tower, of which more in a later edition of Chet Contact.

We hope to see you soon.

Loddon Tuesday Market

Loddon Tuesday Market has restarted at The Hollies on the High Street in Loddon, 10:00-11:30am every Tuesday morning. With the arrival of Spring we will have a lovely variety of plants and cut flowers for sale and some spring vegetables, all locally grown. Our home cooking and preserves are always popular, as are the fresh farm eggs and raw milk. We also have a good variety of local crafts, so why not treat yourself to an Easter gift? We are a friendly market, so come and join us in our café, you will be made very welcome.

Loddon Bell Ringers

To mark the 70th anniversary of the accession of HM Queen Elizabeth II to the throne, a quarter peal of Plain Bob Triples was rung at Loddon on Tuesday 8th February by the local ringers: 1. Rona Sporle 2. Val Counter 3. Jeannine Roe 4. David Webb 5. Ann M Webb 6. Stephen Rabong 7. Katie Wright (conductor) 8. John Green. More ringing is planned for the Platinum Jubilee celebrations in June.

Quarter peals of Double Norwich Court Bob Major, Ashted and Cornwall Surprise Major have been rung by members at Ashill, Kenninghall and Grundisburgh in Suffolk recently. We also took part in a peal at Saham Tony.

We are always pleased to hear from anyone who would be interested in learning how to ring church bells. We are a teaching tower here at Holy Trinity and have good facilities to train new recruits. You may like to contact our tower captain, David Webb, on 01508 528468 to find out more.

Struggling with Money? Local Charitable Funds available:

There are two local charities to help local people in need: Loddon Town Estate Trust (for people living in Loddon); and Chedgrave Church Discretionary Fund (for people living in Chedgrave or who are regular members of the congregation at All Saints). These have received a boost from monies raised by the monthly quiz at The White Horse during 2021.

The charities are only any good if people use them! In the past, money has paid for things like cookers and carpets. It has also gone towards solicitor's bills and rent. Please do not feel ashamed or embarrassed to call on the funds if you need them.

You can access the Loddon fund by contacting Ann Lumley on 01508 528141 or email: annlumley150@btinternet.com. The Chedgrave fund can be accessed by contacting Rev Alison, Rev David or the church warden, Roger Outlaw—contact details on p3.

Chedgrave Church Centre Hire

All Saints Church, Chedgrave has a lovely church centre attached to it which has been open for over 25 years. There are two rooms (one upstairs), a kitchen and a loo. There are wheeled tables which are easy to move and put up. It is warm even in the winter! It is available to book with a suggested donation of £8 per hour. If you are looking for a venue for a meeting, a party, or an activity do contact Anne Jackson who is responsible for hall bookings on 01508 502278.

Royal British Legion—Loddon & District Branch

Our February meeting was well attended, considering the weather! We welcomed two new members wishing to help the RBL.

One RBL motto is 'Service not Self' to help others where they can. We welcome non-military members and veterans. We know meetings are good for people, for social and mental reasons. Our meetings start with a catch up on business and end with a cuppa and chat. They are held in Loddon in the Library Annex back room, 6:45pm for 7:00pm start.

Our next meetings are Monday 18th April (pending Easter decision at March meeting) and Monday 16th May.

For any information or support, please contact: Branch Secretary: Christine Hartley, or Chairman: Colin Hartley on 01508 521136.

Deliverers Wanted—Thank you!

We were looking for more volunteers to deliver to St George's Park, Loddon. Just a few hours after the March edition of Chet Contact went out through people's letterboxes, Roger, our distribution editor, had received several offers of help.

Thank you.

This year's holiday club is already being planned. It is called Baa-Baa Shop. I think there may be one or two sheep in it—maybe even a flock! It's set in a barber's shop, proprietor Barbara Ramsbottom. Filled with the usual mix of fun, food, faith and friendship, there will be craft, storytelling, songs, cooking and games.

And the dates? It will run every morning in the week of 1st-5th August. Put it in your diaries now! Publicity, including booking forms, will be out after Easter.

Community Groups, News and Events

News from Local Branches of the Women's Institute

Loddon and District Women's Institute

It is said that you shouldn't believe everything you read in the newspaper, and as far as last month's WI news is concerned, that is the case. We said that Lynton was going to give us a flower arranging demonstration at our March meeting—not so! He was going to do that when we originally arranged for him to visit us; that visit was cancelled due to the lockdown. Anyway, by the time you're reading this Lynton will have given us a talk entitled the 'Four Seasons'—no flower demonstration but equally enjoyable! Also in March, some of our members got together for an Open House—a social occasion with tea, coffee and cake and an opportunity to enjoy each other's company. We had a 'Knit, Natter and Crochet' session at Loddon Library. There will be another Open House on 6th April, and a 'Knit, Natter and Crochet' on 14th April

On 20th April, Loddon WI will be celebrating its 92nd birthday with a party and a 'Sing-a-long with Hank' session.

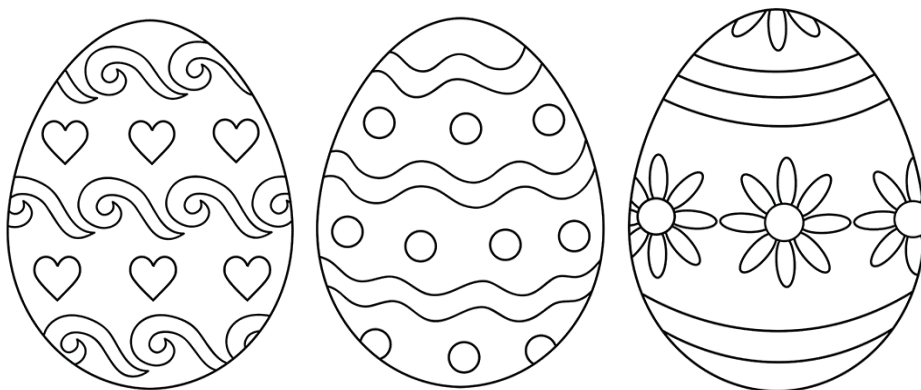

We have continued to welcome new members, and if you are interested in joining what must be one of the longest running groups in Loddon, we can be contacted through our Facebook page or by ringing 01508 528656.

Chedgrave & District Women's Institute

At our meeting in February we welcomed Nina Owen, who gave us an informative insight into what her life is like married to a rural vicar.

On Tuesday 26th April, a member from the Local History Group will be telling us about the older buildings in the area.

We meet at 2:00pm at All Saints Church Centre, Chedgrave. For more information please contact Audrey 528393 or Angela 521120.

Norfolk Home Library Service

Norfolk home library expands service and calls for new users and volunteers.

Calling all book lovers and digital masters! A popular home library service delivered by Royal Voluntary Service and the Norfolk Library and Information Service is looking to expand throughout Norfolk.

A new digital inclusion program is also being trialled, in which specially trained volunteers teach the service's clients how to access critical information digitally, and how to download books online. The expansion means that the Home Library Service is looking to welcome new clients, volunteers, and Volunteer Coordinators to the team.

Volunteers work alongside their local library to select and deliver books and other media to those who may find it difficult to leave the house, have mobility issues, or caring responsibilities. The service also provides regular, friendly social contact to check if clients are safe and well, to discuss reading and listening preferences, and to report any concerns to appropriate services as needed.

Volunteer Coordinators liaise with local libraries, manage a network of local volunteers to arrange book deliveries, recruit new volunteers, and build relationships with local community groups to promote the service. As part of the new digital inclusion program, Digital Service Coordinators may offer their skills in workshops to train volunteers to use various devices, apps, and programs that the service's clients may find challenging.

Alicia Stillman, Service Manager for Royal Voluntary Service Norfolk Home Library Service says: "For people who find leaving their homes problematic, the Home Library Service offers a vital link to the local library and a welcome connection with a friendly face. The Covid-19 pandemic has shone a light on the significant number of vulnerable adults living in isolation. During the last two years, it has also become apparent that many socially isolated people were not able to access vital information due to digital illiteracy. Instruction on downloading eBooks, accessing GP and Council services, and setting up video conferencing can often be more easily explained in person, in an informal setting, one on one. Through the new digital inclusion program, with the help of our dedicated volunteers, we hope to bring clients back to the activities they love, prevent further isolation, and provide companionship and support."

To sign up to the Home Library Service, please contact the Norfolk Library and Information Service on 0344 800 8020 or visit: libraries@norfolk.gov.uk to be added to a round.

To sign up to become a volunteer or coordinator of the Norfolk Home Library Service please visit the Royal Voluntary Service at: www.royalvoluntaryservice.org/volunteer. For further information about the roles, please contact Royal Voluntary Service Norfolk Community Service Manager Alicia Stillman: email: norfolkxls@royalvoluntaryservice.org.uk or 01603 397998.

Loddon Community Gym

It has been good to welcome new members this past month and we hope that they find the programme designed by Louise, our instructor, especially for each of them, helps them slowly and steadily achieve their goals.

Please spread the word that the gym is a friendly, relaxed place to improve your general fitness and mental wellbeing or indeed, train for the next London Marathon if that's your aim.

The new pieces of equipment are well received although the bikes that depend on peddle power, not electricity, for the display to function feel a bit like patting your head and rubbing your tummy at the same time—challenging!

The step machine is a first for our gym and there is a lot of (mostly) friendly rivalry in how many minutes anyone can achieve before their legs go to jelly. For the record I can do ten, not that I am bragging!

We are a not-for-profit business and to keep our fees as low as possible we depend on grants and fundraising to balance the books. Fingers crossed that our current round of grant applications is successful.

Whatever your age, size, shape or fitness level there will be someone like you.

If you want to see the gym in action please call in, see for yourself and talk to Louise or go to our website: www.loddoncommunitygym.com for more information.

Gym opening hours in the Jubilee Hall, George Street, Loddon, as follows:

Monday:1:30-6:00pm; Tuesday 4:30-8:30pm; Friday10:00am-1:00pm.

Annual fee £20; Cashless payment of £5 per session on arrival.

Hales and Loddon Cricket Club

We're hoping to restart our youth training outside (weather permitting) at Hales Green every Monday (apart from Monday 30th May) from Monday 25th April to Monday 25th July. This will amount to 13 weeks of training.

Ben France will be running these sessions on alternate weeks. Our plan is to run three youth teams this year: U9 softball, and U11 and U13 hardball. We will confirm fixtures and all timings closer to the start of the season.

Cost for youth membership will be £45 per child (or £80 for two siblings) including training, club insurance coverage and match fees for all youth games.

Please could all parents pay ahead of the start of youth training where possible (BACS, cash and cheque all accepted). We will also bring the club card machine to the first two sessions to aid with payment.

Additionally, we will also be running All Stars again for 5-8 year-olds from Monday 6th June to Monday 25th July, 6:00-7:00pm. We've capped numbers for this at 16 this season and places are going fast. Booking and payment for this is handled separately via the ECB website: <https://ecb.clubspark.uk/AllStars/Course/ebc1355f-5717-4c1a->

Social Whist

We are back and meeting every 2nd and 4th Friday of each month.

We meet in the back room of The Hollies at around 7:30pm for a 7:45pm start. The evening is just what it says, 'Social Whist'—a chance to get together and to play 12 hands of whist with a cup of tea/coffee, a biscuit, and a chat, half way through. You don't need to have a partner, or even know how to play well. If you want a fun social evening, with a bit of thinking added in, this could be for you. Do join us. If you need a lift to/from The Hollies this can be arranged—please call me (Jane) on 528875. All funds raised are for charity.

Loddon WEA

Mary Fewster is giving us ten 1½ hour talks on "The Company of Preachers". These will show how the religious changes that have taken place in East Anglia over the centuries since the Reformation are revealed in buildings, artefacts and documents, and will also describe the vibrant characters of 'the preachers'. The course has begun and apparently is jolly good so far. The next talk will be in the Jubilee Hall Clubroom on 28th March at 2:00pm.

To enrol for the course, please phone 0300 303 3464 and ask to register for the course by name, giving the WEA reference number, which is C222 8492. The cost will be £59.25, which can be paid either over the phone or by handing a cheque to the branch treasurer at the first talk. Any further queries, please phone: 01508 521036 or 521976.

Loddon & Chedgrave Ladies 8 O'clock Club

We are a friendly group of ladies who meet on the last Wednesday of each month for a talk from a guest speaker and refreshments. A yearly fee is charged and £3.00 for each meeting attended to cover refreshments and outlays.

Next meeting: Wednesday 27th April. Mr Bill Farrow will give a talk on his work with the Norfolk Blood Bikes. NB: We meet in the back room of The Hollies in Loddon High Street. Same time: 8 o'clock.

For more information contact Hillary 01508 520457 or June on 01508 528853.

Chet Valley Voices

Yes, Yes, Yes, Chet Valley Voices will be singing again!
Can't sing? Oh yes you can! We will teach you, any ability welcome.

After a meeting the committee decided it is time to start again. We will be presenting some music which is easier to do from the beginning, but gives us scope to extend into part singing where appropriate. We will be at our old venue St John's Chapel, George Lane, Loddon. This is a large airy venue. Our first rehearsal will be on Thursday 21st April; 7:00-8:30pm, doors open 6:45pm. Fees will be £5 on the night. We look forward to seeing old and new faces.

Loddon and District Local History Group

The meeting on 16th February was both the AGM and then a talk by Robin Sampson. Carol Webb chaired the AGM and outlined the work of the group over the last two years:

- Bryon Sparkes has organised digs at Lodge Farm, The Angel and a garden in Langley.
- Graveyard surveys and markers have been updated at Hardley, Langley, Heckingham and Raveningham by Elvie Herd and a large band of helpers.
- Displays in Youngs' windows have shown 'local churches' followed by 'oddities'.
- Elvie has organised two displays in Loddon Church, one on tithe maps and the other on heraldry
- Stalls were set up at 'Loddon Unlocked' and the Victorian Evening.
- Two new publications are on sale: 'The Changing Face of Chedgrave and the Riverside' and 'Aspects of Wartime in Loddon'.
- Elvie and Peter Webster digitised nearly all the maps.

Bryon, the Treasurer, said finances were good with over £1,200 in the bank—enough to finance future projects. The programme of speakers for the rest of this year is nearly complete. The summer outing is to Raveningham Gardens on 10th June (provisionally). The committee stepped down and were then voted back unanimously.

Robin Sampson, Manager of the Community Archives run by the Norfolk Record Office, outlined the support offered to Local History groups like Loddon. His aim was to provide training, support and resources through a project started in 2020. Groups were invited to make an application to join with just over 30 being chosen, including Loddon. Those accepted were divided into six different cohorts who were given ten meetings in tailored sessions while equipment was provided to help with each group's collections.

There were three main areas of help offered: cataloguing archive collections; helping preserve these collections; digitising old photographs and postcards. Each group was given a budget of up to £250 for preservation materials of which Loddon History Group has taken advantage. Advice and training were also given on the best storage conditions. Loddon was given a digitising kit including a camera, stand and dedicated laptop with software. Peter found the processing of the images very time-consuming. After the meeting we were able to see the results of this digitising when we enjoyed a fascinating PowerPoint showing views of Loddon and surrounding villages taken in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries.

Next Meeting: 20th April: Dr Rik Hoggett on 'A very remote period indeed'. Discovering East Anglia's early Humans.

All meetings held in St John's Lecture Hall, George Lane, Loddon starting at 1:30pm. Admission £3. All are welcome.

Read Any Good Books Lately?

The Arrival by Shaun Tan

This wordless graphic novel is a phenomenon which has been widely praised and awarded. I wanted to include it this month because it's about the displacement of people and their journeys and how they can find themselves without their families. It's a beautiful tribute to refugees everywhere and I really recommend reading it. The surrealist artwork is stunning and draws you into a very different imagined world. It's suitable for children over 8.

The Coward by Jarred McGinnis

The Coward is an autobiographical novel. Jarred's mother dies when he is young and his father, already an alcoholic, becomes abusive and neglectful. Jarred runs away as soon as he can and lives the life of a drifter, living from hand to mouth. But then a car accident makes him a paraplegic and the only person he can call is his (reformed) father. The journey that Jarred takes us on is a very emotional one, at its heart is the broken, damaged relationship with his father. Although it sounds like a misery memoir it's actually darkly funny and heart-warming.

Salt to the Sea by Ruta Sepetys

I had no knowledge of the greatest maritime disaster of all time until I read this book. 9000 lives were lost when the German boat, Gusthoff Wilhem, was torpedoed by the Russians in the dying stages of WW2. Although this is based on historical fact the characters are all imagined. The author has purposefully chosen the weakest and those least able to decide their destiny when their lives become ravaged by war. Told in short chapters, each character takes their turn to add their perspective as the story unfolds. It's heart-breaking but also a wonderful testament to the human spirit.

Again, Rachel by Marion Keyes

The story of Rachel and her battle with drug addiction in Rachel's Holiday has always been my favourite Marion Keyes book so I was eager to read the sequel (which she said she'd never write!). We come back to the familiar character of Rachel, who is now working in an addiction clinic, as head counsellor. The book focuses a lot on the help various characters receive with their addictions, while gradually revealing that Rachel is still in recovery herself. There is a very moving and harrowing account of the loss of a baby and how the characters cope, or don't, with the grief striking in its raw honesty. But there is also humour, lightness and joy. I very much enjoyed it!

On the to be read pile!

Love Marriage by Monica Ali – I remember reading Brick Lane many, many years ago and this new book from her has gone straight on my wish list!

Nature Notes

It almost seems flippant to be writing these nature musings with all that is going on in Ukraine in early March, and who knows how things will have developed by the time this comes out in April. We are praying for peace.

My year list of birds has increased to 137. My first sortie out in February was to Hen Reedbeds at and Walberswick. Fortunately, the tide was out on Blythburgh Estuary, and I quickly spotted a grey plover out on the mudflats.

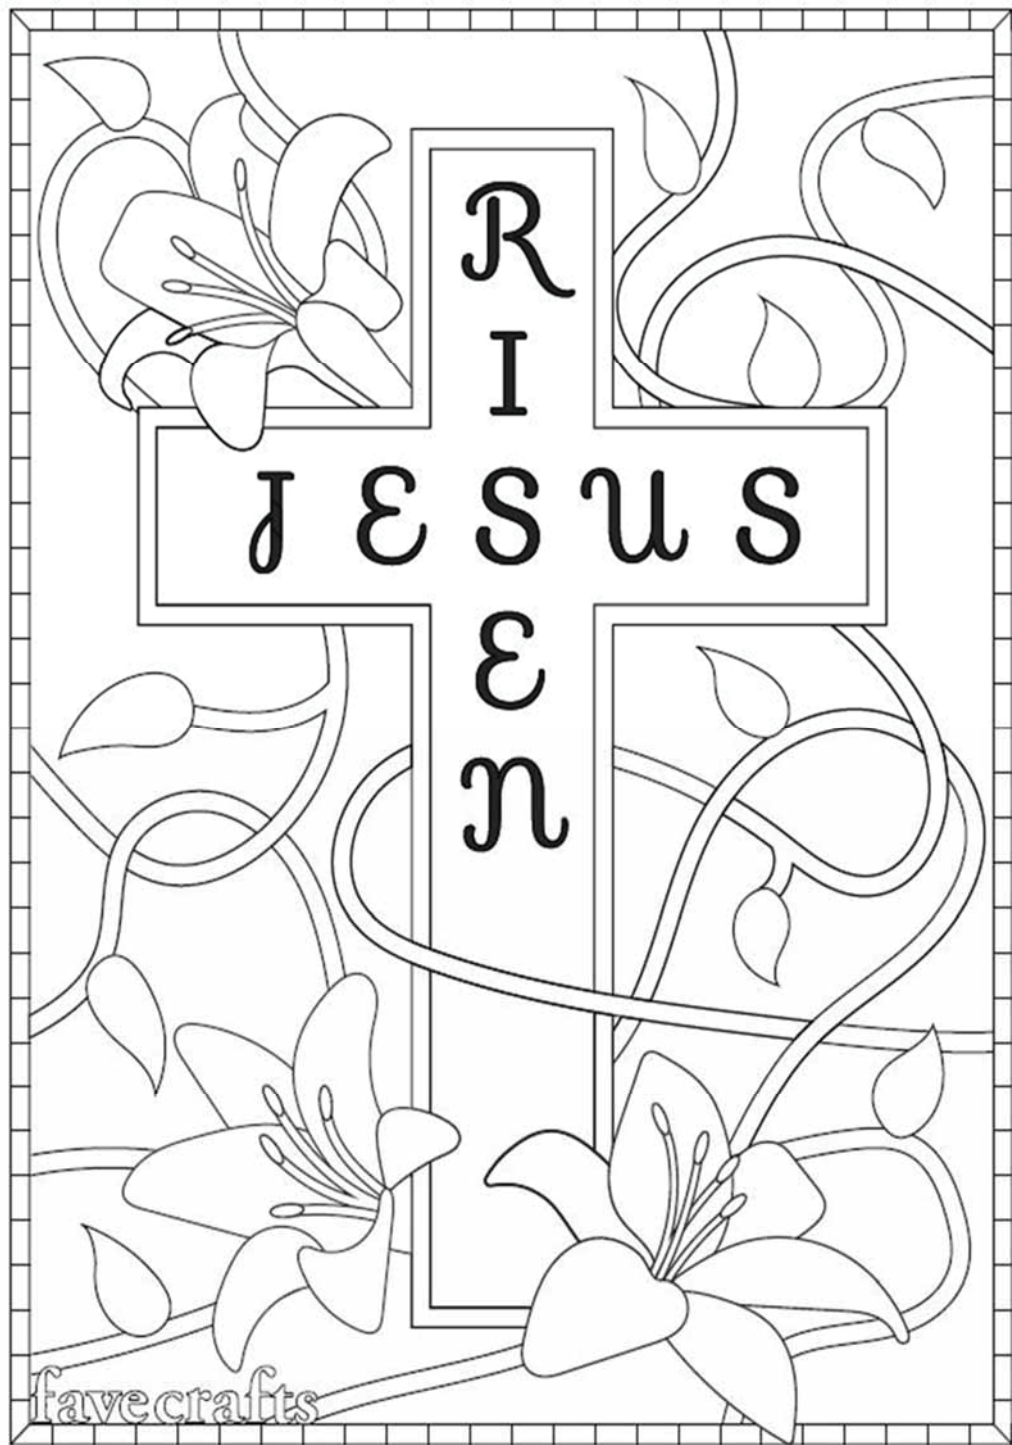

There were also avocets, curlews, dunlin, redshank, black tailed godwit, oyster catcher and ringed plover. I failed to locate the glaucous gull supposedly at the far end of the estuary, so I decided to check through the gulls that were loafing around on a sandbank in front of me: herring gull, common gull, mediterranean gull, black headed gull. Then, there it was, a juvenile glaucous gull, much larger than its companions and biscuit-coloured.

I moved onto Walberswick, where a glossy ibis had been reported in the field inland from the shore car park. It was easy to pick out with its iridescent dark feathers. Glossy ibis, a few years ago, would have been a major rarity, but no longer; in fact, there have been up to three birds in our area, the other two being at Lowestoft and Rockland. I then made my way along the beach towards Dunwich, in search of three more species. I quickly saw a short-eared owl disappearing into the reeds. Checking every redshank I saw on the shore pools in the hope of finding a spotted redshank, another winter visitor, I suddenly struck lucky. Both species standing together enabled me to easily observe their differences. The final bird I was hoping to see was a twite, a sparrow-sized bird similar to a linnet. As there was only a handful of this winter bird between Dunwich and Walberswick, and time was running out, I decided to retrace my steps to the carpark. Then ahead of me in the shingle I could see a small flock of birds. On closer inspection, I could see snow and reed buntings, then amongst them there were the twite, which lightened my step walking back on the shingle beach.

Walking our dog along the Yare, I enjoyed the large flocks of lapwings being put up by several marsh harriers. Another flock of about a hundred waders took off in tight formation on the Cantley side of the river. It took me a few minutes to work out what they were, then the penny dropped, black tailed godwit. Over the years of living here I have only seen small numbers of this bird, so a flock of a hundred (ish) was really pleasing. This time it wasn't the marsh harriers putting them to fright, but a peregrine falcon.

Although only at the beginning of March as I write this, the dawn chorus is in full swing and we have observed blackbirds and sparrows collecting nest material from our garden. Winter visitors are still with us but will be moving north as the month progresses and our summer visitors will start to arrive. So, keep your senses alert, you never know what you might come across.

Gardening Notes

From the Allotment—Andrew Milner

You should now be planting out your potatoes, onions, and shallots. Potatoes need plenty of space, but this varies between earlies (new potatoes) and main crop so follow the instructions on the pack or check the spacings online if you saved your own seed potatoes. You can do this, but it obviously carries a bit more risk that they have a disease so check the tubers carefully before using. This shouldn't be a problem with newly bought seed potatoes but reject any that don't look healthy. If the potatoes are large, you can halve them before planting, making sure there are 'eyes'—new sprouting growth in both pieces.

The easiest and most reliable way to grow onions is from 'sets', which are small young bulbs. Double-check every few days at first and replant any that the birds have pulled out of the ground expecting a worm to eat! They need lots of water to get to a good size. Loddon Garden and DIY sell onion and shallot sets loose, which is less wasteful than the tiny bags garden centres mostly sell them in. There is less choice bulk-buying this way, but I have found them to be reliable varieties.

Aubergines, chillies and tomatoes need a long growing season to produce a good crop so April is the last chance to sow the seed. Lots of other seeds can also be started in the greenhouse or on the windowsill for the first sowings. Early radishes always seem to be the best.

From the Garden—Shirley Cross

This month is a busy time in the garden and the weather can still be a touch chilly for planting. Spring flowering shrubs, such as forsythia and flowering currant can be pruned now they have flowered and prune a third of your dogwood stems to retain the coloured stems. If you place the bright red stem tips from the prunings in water they may produce green shoots and roots so a few free plants and an attractive vase for the windowsill.

One job I always forget is to put my plant supports in now whilst the plant is small. It will grow through the support rather than me trying to squeeze it in later.

Continue to deadhead and feed bulbs and split large clumps of snowdrops, and keep well-watered. You may have seen the news about the yellow snowdrop, Golden Tears, that was sold recently for £1,850 for a single bulb, which beat the previous highest price of £1,390 in 2015 for Golden Fleece, another yellow snowdrop. Yellow marked snowdrops are highly desirable, it's a bit like tulip mania. These bulbs as they increase in numbers will become more affordable. Golden Fleece is now available for £130 a bulb.

Further news on the peat-based compost, I have seen several large supermarkets stocking Miracle gro peat-free compost so will try a bag and report back next month.

Our wildlife pond is finished so now off to plant water lilies and the bog garden.

End Piece

Reading through this month's copy, it strikes me that village life simply cannot flourish without volunteers. They are the life blood of everything which makes living here so good.

Starting with the church—since this is a church magazine—we find that of the church leadership, only the rector David Owen, receives a stipend from the Church of England. The rest of the team: clergy; lay ministers; churchwardens; secretaries; treasurers; are all volunteers.

Chet Contact itself is edited by volunteers and distributed by volunteers. The advertising is managed by a volunteer. Church groups and activities such as Noah's Ark and Friends & Neighbours are run by volunteers.

Moving on from the church, we know that there is a huge amount of time put in by the leaders of the uniformed organisations such as Brownies and Rainbows. So, too, those who run the many sports and social groups in, and for, our villages: football; table tennis; bowls; hockey; whist; badminton; Probus; WI; and many more.

Or what about those who keep our village halls going? Those who volunteer to serve on our parish councils? The people who run groups for those who are interested in history, photography, flower arranging or gardening? Those who run groups such as ChetChat or the Day Centre?

I could more than fill this page with a salute to all those whose activities are featured in the pages of Chet Contact and who work long hours for no financial reward in order to offer possibilities which can enrich the lives of those of us who live in the Chet Valley.

Volunteering originally meant joining an army of your own freewill, rather than being conscripted. Fortunately, it has a less militaristic meaning today. But the notion of free will is still important. Those who volunteer, do so freely because they want to contribute to the community; to share their skills and experience with others; to give back something of the good fortune they have received.

But I worry whether volunteering is something which has had its day. I hear of clubs and societies folding because there is no-one prepared to step up and take on a role. I know that parish councils have vacancies; that much more to enhance village life could be done if only there were people prepared to step up and take a part.

The more people who volunteer, the less each individual has to do. Are you a volunteer? Not yet? Waiting for the right time? Waiting to be asked? Too busy at the moment? We all have reasons to take a back seat but perhaps now might be the moment for you to take that step forward?

Alison.
